Dear Dr. Powell:

It is very kind of you, with your letter of January 23, 1979, to my associate Robert Demorest, to offer to give us an opportunity to consider publication of your "Comparative Aesthetics: A Workbook"; and I very much regret that, though the materials that accompanied your inquiry have been read with interest, I must return them to you with this letter in the envelope provided for this purpose.

Our commitments to publication over the course of the next several years have grown unusually heavy, and we are not free to assume additional obligations.

We are grateful, nonetheless, for your interest in publishing with us.

Sincerely yours,

Weldon A. Kefauver
Director
